Ahlman Iversen of Oak Lawn, Illinois named 2010 Fraternalist of the Year

It is with great pride and pleasure that we announce the selection of Ahlman Iversen as Woodmen of the World and/or Assured Life Association's 2010 Fraternalist of the Year. Al lives in Oak Lawn, Illinois and is a member of the Danish Brotherhood in America Danmark Lodge 35, where he has been a member for 35 years.

As a member of DBIA Lodge 35, Al currently serves on the Scholarship Committee for the DBIA Midwest District. Although not currently on the board of Lodge 35, Al has gone through the officer chairs twice, served as District President, on many committees at both the lodge and district level and is always ready to step in where needed.

Al is currently the President of the Chicago Midwest Danish Rebild Chapter, Board Member of the Rebild National Park Society and President of the Danish Old People's Home in Chicago (for the second time). A feather in his cap and in recognition of his many years of service to the Danish community as a whole, Al was Knighted by the Queen of Denmark in September of 2009. Al's many hours of community service includes his time at Saint Paul Lutheran Church where he is currently President of the Board of Elders. Al also chaired Saint Paul's "October Fest in April," the church's biggest annual event which usually draws 500 people. He also serves on the Endowment Fund Committee, as a communion assistant and usher.

Ahlman Iversen of Oak Lawn, Illinois named 2010 Fraternalist of the Year

There Al joined the board of directors in 1999 and was elected President in 2002. He served in that capacity for four years and was elected President again in 2009. He is Chair of the Development and Capital Improvement Project which to-date has raised over two million dollars for the Home.

Al joined the Danish Rebuild National Park Society in 1986 and has been an active member since that time. He was elected President of the Chicago Midwest Rebuild Chapter and also serves as President of Chapter Presidents, both from Denmark and the United States. Other organizations supported by Al are the Danish Immigrant Museum in Elk Horn, Iowa, the Danish-American Heritage Society and the Danish Old Settlers of Chicago.

Although Al is not directly involved with children, he is a contributor to the work force for lodge activities that involve the youth from the annual picnic, Christmas party, Fastelvn's celebration (an extremely old traditional Danish carnival custom celebrated in February), and pizza party. Until recently, Al served as Santa at the annual lodge Christmas party. Both young and old were entertained by his rendition of the Christmas story.

Al still pitches in at his old bakery which is now run by his son when the need arises. Each year he bakes 700 kringle (a Danish pastry) which is sold by another DBIA lodge in the Midwest District as its biggest fund-raiser. So, all in all, retirement is just another word to Alhman Iversen.

With all of his accomplishments, dedication and service, it is truly an honor for Woodmen of the World and/or Assured Life Association to recognize Mr. Ahlman Iversen as its 2010 Fraternalist of the Year. Congratulations, Al! ©

2010 Winning Essay

“Of everything in the world what would you like to be doing right now? Where would you like to be the most? Who would you prefer to be with at this moment?”

By: Elisa Huber

CA DBIA Dannevang Lodge 126

$1500

Arthur J Barrett, Jr. Scholarship

Throughout middle school and high school I begged my parents to adopt a child. Much to my dismay, they did not believe it was the right decision for them, and this decision has never changed. I continually attempted to change my mom's mind by giving example after example of children who are abandoned and die every day from hunger. However, my mom's response was similar to many people's view on such a vast problem. People become overwhelmed by the statistics and media about the thousands of children who die every day from utter starvation. Yet, I know that to love, provide for and give hope to even one child makes a difference, for it is saving children one at a time.

If I could do anything in the world at this time, I would devote my time to helping and spending time with orphans in third world countries. I have always had a heart for children and therefore it burdens me to see children being stripped of care-free childhoods and forced to battle hardships as severe as simple survival. My heart is full of sorrow when I see pictures of starving children across the world with swollen bellies from malnourishment, rummaging through heaps of trash to find scraps of food. Yet, I have been amazed that these children, despite their horrific situations, still find joy in life. I want to make a difference by loving and giving hope to hopeless, underprivileged orphans.

I had a great opportunity to do this in a small way this past December when my senior classmates and I traveled to Costa Rica to serve orphans and those living in poverty. This trip opened my eyes to the grave poverty children in third world countries live in and provided me with amazing opportunities to love these deprived children. We brought these children suitcases full of clothes, toys and basic necessities and spent time playing, singing, and laughing with them. This trip, however, only lasted one week. I desire to invest a lot more time with such orphans, where I could develop lasting relationships with children who need to be loved and who have been deprived of nurturing care.

It is often said that the greatest satisfaction comes from knowing that you are making a difference in solving a problem that is greater than yourself. I desire to be able to make such a statement in the cause to love and bring hope to the abandoned, deprived children in the world. I have been raised in a family who has been blessed, and have never had to worry about the basic necessities in life, such as wondering how I was going to find food for my next meal or shelter for the night. At this moment, I desire to give children the love and provisions I have experienced and furthermore bring them a hope that will inspire them to reach for their own dreams and know that they can find hope for a bright future. 📖

Three Fraternalists of the Year, One Lodge

Upon receiving Woodmen of the World and/or Assured Life Association's Fraternalist of the Year award for 2010 on Friday, September 17th, Ahlman Iversen joined 2 other living members of the Danmark Lodge 35 in Chicago, Illinois to be awarded this distinction. Woodrow Petersen (pictured left) and Raymond Nielsen (right) are previous winners of this national recognition for their fraternal work and volunteer efforts not only to the lodge and Society, but to their communities.

And the fraternalism doesn't stop in Chicago. DBIA Lodge 167 in Portland, Oregon, too, has the distinction of having 3 members named as the national Fraternalist of the Year for Woodmen of the World and/or Assured Life Association; Phillip Baker in 2001, Larry West in 2006 and Don Bogh in 2007. Don Bogh has subsequently passed away.

It seems that this top honor for fraternalism repeats itself in many camps/lodges; and in one case, is shared among family. Here is a list of Fraternalists of the Year beginning in 1993. 📌

Camp/Lodge of the Year Awards Announced

The following camps/lodges were selected as the winners in Woodmen of the World/Assured Life Association's Camp/Lodge of the Year program by the Committee of Fraternal Affairs:

DBIA Lodge 35, Chicago, IL for its 120th lodge anniversary luncheon. The lodge switched it up this year and instead of its normal dinner/dance, they had a luncheon; complete with an Elvis impersonator. The success of the event was demonstrated by signing up 20 new social members for the lodge.

WOW Rocky Mountain Camp 999, Greenwood Village, CO for its support of the Habit for Humanity Home Improvement Center. Members of Rocky Mountain Camp 999 partnered with students from the Colorado School of Mines to volunteer for one of the Habit for Humanity Home Improvement Outlet Stores. Volunteers were assigned a major project for a house remodel where the owner was tearing out a retaining wall and donating the flagstone to Habitat for Humanity. 5 Rocky Mountain

Camp members and 7 students participated in the project. The Habitat outlet store received a minimum of $100 per pallet of flagstone. Despite few tools volunteers removed over four truck loads of stone netting Habitat over $2,000. The camp logged about 72 volunteer hours in this project.

WOW Rocky Mountain Camp 999, Greenwood Village, CO for its Pencil Project school supply drive for the Child Rescue Foundation Pencil Project. Camp members & employees and other tenants of the building complex in which the home office is located, together donated 20 backpacks each filled with school supplies as well as additional miscellaneous school supplies and four boxes of 3-ringed binders to this organization. For its first time supporting this very special project, Rocky Mountain Camp 999 counts it among its successes. The Child Rescue Foundation exists and runs solely on the volunteer efforts of their staff and all those who volunteer their time in support of this organization. Child Rescue Foundation Inc. reaches over 15,000 at risk children and children that are victims of domestic violence per year through its various projects. The Pencil Project alone impacts over 900 kids. The camp's drive and donations went directly to a child and immediately impacted their life.

DBIA Lodge 14, Kenosha, WI for its quality lodge newsletter, which is published monthly.

DBIA Lodge 35, Chicago, IL – Denmark Lodge 35 nominated an event in all categories except for a Join Hands Day event to clinch the title of Camp/Lodge of the Year.

Honorable mentions for the Camp/Lodge of the Year program included DBIA Lodge 29, Seattle, WA and DBIA Lodge 348, Eugene, OR.

The winner in each category will designate a $250 donation to a charity of its choice for being selected "best" for that category. # Finish Line Member Annuity FLEXIBLE PREMIUM DEFERRED ANNUITY

Instead of watching the dollars you've saved for your retirement diminish, watch your funds grow with the Finish Line Annuity.

Features:

- Fixed interest rate and flexible premium payments.
- Interest accumulations are tax deferred—you pay no income taxes on the interest earnings until you start receiving payouts.
- Available for an initial premium of $500, plus the $12 annual dues. Larger initial premiums or annuity fund values earn higher interest; all guaranteed for the first year. After the first year, the rate is guaranteed to never drop below 2.50%.
- Surrender charges apply for early surrender—10% surrender-free withdrawals available after the first certificate year.

Current Interest Crediting Rates:

- 5.00% for annuity fund values of $20,000 or more
—guaranteed for the 1st year.
- 4.50% for annuity fund values of $5,000 to $19,999
—guaranteed for the 1st year.
- 4.00% for annuity fund values of $500 to $4,999
—guaranteed for the 1st year.
